POMPOSITY.

Hold not thy head too high, my friend,
For surely thou must know The heaviest heads of wheat will bend
The stocks on which they grow;
And everywhere the lowliest flowers Bloom nearest to the ground—
The sweetest songsters of the wood In lowly shades abound.

Hold not thy head too high, my friend,
Though rich in land and gold;
The throngs that on the steps attend Speak not the thoughts they hold;
Their true respect is only paid Where worthiness they see—Those deferential bows are made Unto thy wealth, not thee.

Hold not thy head too high, my friend, Where'er thy station be;
For brains will triumph in the end—Where then will be thy sphere?
We envy not thy lordly tread, Nor at thy lot repine—
We could not hold erect a head That weighs so light as thine!

As a YOUNG WOMAN was walking alone, One evening, a man looked at her and followed her. The young woman said: "Why do you follow me?" He answered: "Because I have fallen in love with you." The woman said: "Why are you in love with me? My sister is much handsomer; she is coming after me; go and make love to her."
The man turned back, and saw a woman with an ugly face. Being greatly displeased, he turned to the first woman, and said: "Why did you tell me a falsehood?" The woman answered: "Neither did you speak the truth, for if you were really in love with me, why did you leave me to look upon my sister?"

EFFECTS OF SKATING.—A Western man who had repeatedly been urged by some giggling female acquaintances to accompany them to a skating pond, at last yielded, no longer able to resist the blandishments of his bewitching tormentors. He went. He said he put on a pair of skates, and struck boldly out; and the next thing he knew he found himself in bed, the minister sitting beside him singing a psalm, the doctor courting his wife, and the undertaker measuring him for a walnut coffin.

A GENTLEMAN who wanted to make a speech to a Sunday School thought he would adopt the colloquial style, and this is what happened: "Now, boys, what does a man want when he goes a fishing?" A shrill voice in the crowd went directly to the point with:
"Wants a bite." The gentleman sat down without further remarks.

A LADY at sea, full of delicate apprehensions in a gale of wind, cried out, among other pretty exclamations, "We shall all go to the bottom! Mercy on us, how my head swims!" "Madam, never fear," said a sailor, "you can never go to the bottom while your head swims."

A POOR fellow, in his examination the other day, was asked if he had been in the Court before, and what for? [He had been up for body stealing.] "It was for nothing at all," said the humorist, "holly rescuing a fellow creature from the grave."

The belle of Portland does the cooking for her father and mother, and in the afternoon drives out with the finest span of horses in town, thinking it an honor to be able to prepare a meal of victuals. This her sister belle declares "shocking."

At the last meeting of the Conference of the Paris bar, this question was discussed:
"Can a person who directly aids another to commit suicide be indicted as an accomplice in an act of murder?" The point was decided in the negative.

"WELL, wasn't that a finished sermon we had this morning?" asked one person of another, as they came out of the church. "Finished!" was the reply, "Yes, it was finished at last, although I began to think it never would be."

A BELGIAN boy, in London, hung himself by accident the other day, and his father testified that the boy had read sensation stories of suicides, and afterward many times experimented on his own neck before the fatal occasion.

"WHEREVER you find many men you will find many minds," exclaimed a public speaker. "Tut! tut!" responded one of his auditors, "if you only ask this crowd out to take a drink, you'd find 'em all on one mind."

A FATHER of three sons and five daughters was asked how many children he had. The answer was, "I have three sons and they each five sisters." "Mercy!" replied the in-terrogator, "what a family you must have."

A POP, talking of the transmigration of souls, said, "In the time of Moses I have no doubt I was the golden calf." "Very likely," replied a lady, "and time has robbed you of nothing but the gilding."

A RED-NOSSED gentleman asked a wit whether he believed in spirits. "Ah, sir," replied he, looking him full in the face, "I see too much evidence before me to doubt it."

A LOVING friend's rebuke sinks into the heart, and convinces the judgment; an enemy's or stranger's rebuke is invective and irritates, not converts.

USE is indeed second nature. The rattle of a thousand trains fails to awaken the confirmed railway sleeper.

Too EARNEST a desire to excel often sets a man below his real worth in the estimation of others.

EXTRAORDINARY virtues are ever defamed by those who want the courage to imitate them.

The reason why a rainbow is never seen in a clear sky, is that it is bent on a cloud.

If you doubt whether to kiss a pretty girl, give her the benefit of the doubt.

The Panama papers complain of the depredations of California thieves.

He doth not lose his labor, who counts every word he speaks.

A MAN in Lexington, Ky., has just married his twelfth wife.

Our good actions are often worth more than their motives.

It is the attribute of art to suggest more than it expresses.

A SHADOW without substance.—The shadow of a doubt.

A MAN to speak his mind must have one to speak.
